

DEVON AND CORNWALL POLICE AUTHORITY SCHEME OF DELEGATIONS - INDIVIDUALS

Introduction

The provisions of Section 101 of the Local Government Act 1972 (as amended) enable the Police Authority to delegate powers to committees and officers. The Police & Justice Act 2006 (Part 1 Section 3) provisions enable the Police Authority to delegate functions to Members

The scheme of delegation is intended to ensure the efficient discharge of the Police Authority's business by allowing for decisions to be taken at the appropriate level. Effectively this allows the Chief Constable to carry out his/her day to day responsibilities for operational policing matters and the Police Authority to carry out its legal functions and deal with matters at a strategic level.

In delegating responsibility to the Chief Constable in relation to personnel, financial and property matters the Authority expects him/her to act within any approved strategies and policies and to seek professional advice as and when necessary. The same provisions apply to the Authority's Members and Officers.

The Scheme of Delegation is complementary to the Authority's Procedure Rules , Financial Regulations and Standing Orders for Tenders and Contracts and individuals exercising delegated powers should do so in accordance with their provisions.

The Authority expects to be made aware of sensitive issues or any matter which may have significant financial implications. The delegation of powers to post holders under this scheme does not prevent a post holder from referring the matter to the Authority or a Committee for decision if they wish or consider it appropriate. The Authority, and any Committee with the relevant terms of reference, may require that a specific matter be referred to it for a decision and not dealt with under delegated powers.

In particular the Authority will expect its officers to draw its attention to sensitive issues or any matter which may have significant financial implications.

All decisions taken under delegated powers shall be properly documented and available for inspection by any Member of the Authority and available to the public where the information is not classified as exempt from legislation such as Freedom of Information.

References in this document to the Chief Constable, Chief Executive or Treasurer shall include such other officers as may be authorised by them to act on their behalf.

The Chief Constable shall be responsible for ensuring that the provisions and obligations of the Scheme of Delegation are properly drawn to the attention of members of staff under his/her direction and control.
